SCATHING REBUKE TO GERMANY IS CARRIED IN CLEMENCEAU LETTER

"Peace of Justice" Must be Not Only for Germany But For the World, He Says.

RANTZAU GOES TO WEIMAR

Answer Must be in Allied Hands Before 6:49 P. M. on Monday Evening.

(By Associated Press)

Germany's answer to the allied peace terms must be presented to the peace conference at or before 6:49 p. m., Paris time, Monday, June 23.

The five-day period originally given the enemy delegation to either accept or reject the terms was extended forty-eight hours by the conference yesterday.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German mission, left Versailles last evening for Weimar where he will arrive today. According to advices, he will at once confer with the German Cabinet, which will send the revised treaty to experts, who will report as soon as possible.

The terms will be laid before the German National Assembly Wednesday, and it may be that the Cabinet will ask that a vote be taken on acceptance or rejection, so that it may act as having a mandate from the German people.

It is expected the consideration of the pact will be continued by the Cabinet until Friday, and that the final German answer will be laid before the Assembly for ratification on Saturday.

Immediately after the assembly has acted, it is expected the chief of the German delegation will start on his return trip to Versailles.

The detailed reply, a summary of which was made public in Paris Monday night, fails to make material alterations in the fundamental features of the treaty.

There are some concessions, but they appear to be of a rather minor nature compared with the demands made by the Germans in their counter proposals.

One of the principal concessions is the admission of Germany to the League of Nations "in the early future" if she fulfills her obligations.

A notable feature of the allied reply was the covering letter by Premier Clemenceau, president of the peace congress, which was a scathing arraignment of Germany for launching the war and conducting hostilities so ruthlessly.

It pointed out that the German people supported the war and that the "peace and justice" demanded must be of justice not only for Germany but for the other peoples of the world.

(By Associated Press)

Cleveland, O., June 17.—Search for the five bandits who late yesterday held up and robbed the West Cleveland Banking Company, has up to early today, produced no results. The police of every city in the county have been asked to aid in the pursuit.

The robbery, one of the most daring and systematic in the history of the city, netted the armed bandits cash estimated by bank officials at about $15,000. First reports were that $50,000 had been obtained.

Five employees and three customers were lined up inside the cages at the point of revolvers by three of the bandits. The fourth gathered the cash while the fifth waited in a stolen auto with the engine running.

(By Associated Press)

Winnipeg, Manitoba, June 17.—Ten strike leaders were arrested in their homes here today and transported in automobiles to some place in the country, presumably Stormy Mountain, by government police officials.

Other arrests were reported to have been made in Calgary and other western points at the same time.

Simultaneously with the arrest of the strike leaders, the Royal Northwest Mounted Police raided the labor temple from which the strike has been conducted. Considerable literature, said to be of a Bolshevik nature, was seized. The police broke down doors and windows during the raid.

Burial parties were being sent out to the wheat fields north of the race track today to complete burying the dead from the battle.

Major General Cabell, who arrived here today, was to leave late today for San Antonio. No military developments are expected as result of the punitive expedition Sunday night.

HUNS MAY NOT SIGN TREATY
Noted French Writer Interviews Delegates and Finds Them of One Opinion.

(By Associated Press)

Paris, June 17.—The majority of the members of the peace conference believe Germany will not sign the peace treaty, according to Marcel Hulin of the Echo de Paris, who made a canvass of a number of the leading personalities of the peace-making bodies.

Only one of these leaders expressed the opinion that the Germans would accept the revised treaty. This member, however, is one whose opinion, the writer says, he holds in the greatest esteem.

The delegate in question, the writer explains, based his opinion that the Germans will sign on the fact that they have knowledge that at yesterday's meeting a complete agreement was reached on the consequences which would follow Germany's refusal of the peace offer.

They were aware, it was said, that peace would be imposed by force in accordance with President Wilson's Baltimore speech and that orders had been given for an allied force of 600,000 men, supported by heavy artillery of hitherto unrevealed power to begin the advance on June 24th.

Want Irish to Have Place at Conference.

(By Associated Press)

Atlantic City, June 17.—A resolution urging Congress to recognize the Irish Republic and recommending that representatives of the Irish Republic be given a hearing at the peace conference was adopted today by the American Federation of Labor. The memorial placed American organized labor as being in favor of self determination of Ireland.

Bitter debate developed when the resolutions committee reported measures dealing with Ireland, some of the delegates urging the convention to go on record in favor of self determination for the Irish people and others recommending that the United States be asked to recognize the Irish Republic.

Harold C. Kingsley of Newport, Rhode Island, labor union, declared he believed in both "self determination" as President Wilson did before he went to Europe and had "hobnobbed with people there."

STERN REPLY IS SENT FOE WITH FINAL DECISION AS TO WHETHER THEY WILL ACCEPT OR REJECT WITHIN SEVEN DAYS.

STERN TERMS ARE NOT LIGHTENED

ARMISTICE WILL CEASE NEXT MONDAY AND NO FURTHER DELAY WILL TAKE PLACE TOWARD FORCING HUNS TO THEIR KNEES.

Paris, June 16.—The final reply of the Allied and Associated Powers to the conditions of peace handed to the Germans at Versailles May 7 was delivered to the German delegation today and made public shortly afterward.

The Germans are allowed five days to accept or refuse the treaty as it stands. If they are accept, peace will be signed at once; if they do not accept, the armistice will terminate on Saturday June 21, and the powers will take such steps as may be necessary to enforce their terms.

.. The principles of the original conditions have been vigorously upheld as establishing a peace of justice, but certain modifications in detail and many explanations of the effect of execution are made.

The reply is in two parts — a general covering letter and serial discussion of the general counter proposals. The changes include:

A plebe site for upper Silesia with guarantees of coal from that territory.

Frontier rectification in west Prussia.

Omission of the third zone in the Schleswig plebiscite.

Temporary increase of the German army from 100,000 to 200,000 men.

Declaration of the intention to submit within a month of signature a list of those accused of violation of the laws and customs of war.

Offer to co-operate with a German commission on reparations and to receive suggestions for discharging the obligation.

Certain detailed modifications in the finance economic and ports and waterways clauses, including abolition of the proposed Kiel Canal commission.

Assurance of membership in the league of nations in the early future if Germany fulfills her obligations.

The covering letter is from M. Clemenceau president of the peace conference to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau president of the German Delegation.

The resolution of Pomerene proposing the investigation, was amended so as to include inquiry into the primary as well as the general election.

Rumors that a cabinet crisis is pending and that a new government will be formed are discredited at Berlin.

Sections of the Austrian treaty, which were reserved by the peace conference when the main portions of the pact were laid before Austria's delegates, will be presented Tuesday. During the remainder of the week the peace conference will busy itself on Austrian and Turkish affairs.

While in the audience of the Palace Theater recently, Webster Ellis, local citizen, saw his own son, Howard Ellis, shown upon the screen.

Ellis was in this city some time ago, visiting relatives and friends, after being discharged from the French army, in which he served during the war.

U. S. MARINES MAY DRIVE COSTA RICAN GENERAL FROM NICARAGUA'S FRONTIER

General Tinoco.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(Special)—The United States will send marines if necessary to protect Nicaragua against the invasion which is said to be threatened by the Costa Rican forces of President Tinoco.

The state department is just finishing an investigation of the reports that Tinoco's brother has massed a considerable army near the Nicaraguan frontier and, if satisfied that danger is impending, will offer the protection that is required.

It was said by a responsible official today that the United States would not permit Nicaragua to be disturbed, and attention was called to the fact that the navy already had warships in Nicaraguan and Costa Rican ports ready to take immediate action.

The willingness of the United States to assist Nicaragua is due to the fact that the little republic, at the suggestion of American financial advisers, disband its entire army with the exception of a guard of about 500 men and is, therefore, entirely at the mercy of any other country unless the United States helps it out.

Carlos Lara, formerly Costa Rican minister of foreign affairs, who is now here, asserts that the stories of the alleged plans for an invasion of Nicaragua are inventions and not to be taken seriously. He charges that the recent unsuccessful revolution against the Tinoco government was directed from Nicaragua.

PRIZED STATUE MUST BE REPAIRED

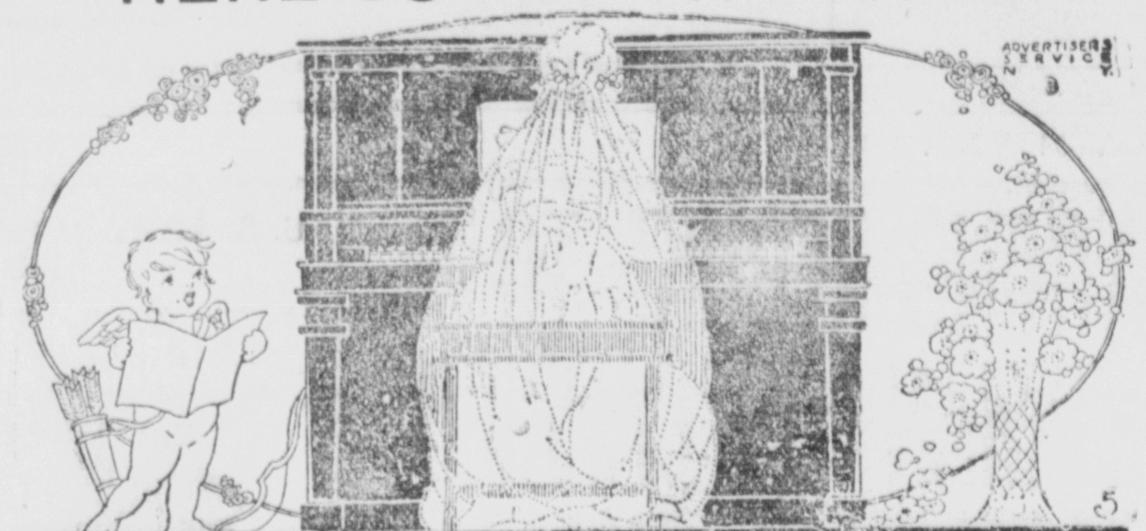

London, May 16.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The handsome bronze statue of King Charles I in Trafalgar Square, which has been covered with sandbags from the day German airships began raiding London, will not, for a time at least, be uncovered, in spite of the fact that all danger from air raids is over.

The left foreleg of King Charles' bronze horse which supports greater part of the statue's weight has cracked. Repairs which will cost $1,000 are in progress. The statue is one of the finest in London.

The corn crop seems to depend about equally on the condition of the weather and of shoes.

AFTER Hobbies IN SOUTHLAND

(By Associated Press)
Tampa Fla., June 12.—Five hundred Tampa women have formed the Woman's Protective League and say they propose to clean up organized vice by direct action—that they propose to undermine its support.

By the establishment of a sort of moral credit bureau this organization proposes to furnish any woman a confidential report on the "double life" of her husband if she wants one. The inquirer does not even need to give her own name in making the inquiry;

she may designate a post office box address or any place where an agent of the league may deposit the report on its investigation.

Organizers of the bureau say that seventy of their number have pledged to do the investigating work in the open while the remainder will work in secret.

"So many have such old reprobates for husbands," said one of the chiefs,

"they can't work openly because these husbands won't let them.

Therefore they will work secretly."

The theory of the league is that if a man has not been walking the straight and narrow path one of the five hundred will know about it or at least can find out.

To Secretary Baker's announced ambition to retire to private life we hear no vociferous protest.

It enlarged her neck 1½ inches and made her a nervous wreck. We despaired of her life. It took less than one bottle to restore her to good health. I am glad to tell anyone our experience, even by letter."

Sorbo Quadruple comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate the skin. After the goitre is removed, the parts are left in a healthy normal condition. Requires ten minutes daily.

Helmets Worn by German War Lords on Exhibit at Methodist Centenary Celebration

THREE helmets, absolutely guaranteed to have been worn by the former Kaiser William of Germany, Von Bethmann-Hollweg and General Ludendorff, will be on exhibition in Columbus, O., as a part of the Methodist Centenary Celebration, June 20 to July 13. They were brought out of Germany during the revolution by Lowell Thomas, world traveler and explorer, whose travoluges will be given in Columbus as a feature of the celebration.

Thomas entered Germany at this most critical period, without passing or authority of any kind. To do this he was forced to hide out for days on the border. He was turned back twice, but on his third attempt succeeded in getting past a Swiss guard. He made some wonderful pictures in Berlin, showing street riots and the general chaos of the city at that time.

In addition to these views and incidental lectures, Mr. Thomas will show pictures taken in Palestine at the time of General Allenby's occupation. Thomas accompanied the British troops on this expedition.

SEES OWN SON ON THE SCREEN

While in the audience of the Palace Theater recently, Webster Ellis, local citizen, saw his own son, Howard Ellis, shown upon the screen.

The film was a picture showing the lawyers of the Henry Ford-Chicago Tribune case leaving the court room. Ellis is one of the many attorneys representing the Tribune in the great million dollar case, and when he was shown on the screen he was instantly recognized by his father.

Ellis was in this city some time ago visiting relatives and friends, after being discharged from the French army, in which he served during the war.

U. S. MARINES MAY DRIVE COSTA RICAN GENERAL FROM NICARAGUA'S FRONTIER

General Tinoco.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(Special)—The United States will send marines if necessary to protect Nicaragua against the invasion which is said to be threatened by the Costa Rican forces of President Tinoco.

The state department is just finishing an investigation of the reports that Tinoco's brother has massed a considerable army near the Nicaraguan frontier and, if satisfied that danger is impending, will offer the protection that is required.

It was said by a responsible official today that the United States would not permit Nicaragua to be disturbed, and attention was called to the fact that the navy already had warships in Nicaraguan and Costa Rican ports ready to take immediate action.

The willingness of the United States to assist Nicaragua is due to the fact that the little republic, at the suggestion of American financial advisers, disband its entire army with the exception of a guard of about 500 men and is, therefore, entirely at the mercy of any other country unless the United States helps it out.

Carlos Lara, formerly Costa Rican minister of foreign affairs, who is now here, asserts that the stories of the alleged plans for an invasion of Nicaragua are inventions and not to be taken seriously. He charges that the recent unsuccessful revolution against the Tinoco government was directed from Nicaragua.

PRIZED STATUE MUST BE REPAIRED

London, May 16.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The handsome bronze statue of King Charles I in Trafalgar Square, which has been covered with sandbags from the day German airships began raiding London, will not, for a time at least, be uncovered, in spite of the fact that alarum from air raids is over.

The left foreleg of King Charles' bronze horse which supports greater part of the statue's weight has cracked. Repairs which will cost $1,000 are in progress. The statue is one of the finest in London.

The corn crop seems to depend about equally on the condition of the weather and of shoes.

AFTER Hobbies IN SOUTHLAND

(By Associated Press)

Tampa Fla., June 12.—Five hundred Tampa women have formed the Woman's Protective League and say they propose to clean up organized vice by direct action—that they propose to undermine its support.

By the establishment of a sort of moral credit bureau this organization proposes to furnish any woman a confidential report on the "double life" of her husband if she wants one. The inquirer does not even need to give her own name in making the inquiry; she may designate a post office box address or any place where an agent of the league may deposit the report on its investigation.

Organizers of the bureau say that seventy of their number have pledged to do the investigating work in the open while the remainder will work in secret.

"So many have such old reprobates for husbands," said one of the chiefs, "they can't work openly because these husbands won't let them. Therefore they will work secretly." The theory of the league is that if a man has not been walking the straight and narrow path one of the five hundred will know about it or at least can find out.

To Secretary Baker's announced ambition to retire to private life we hear no vociferous protest.

GOITRE

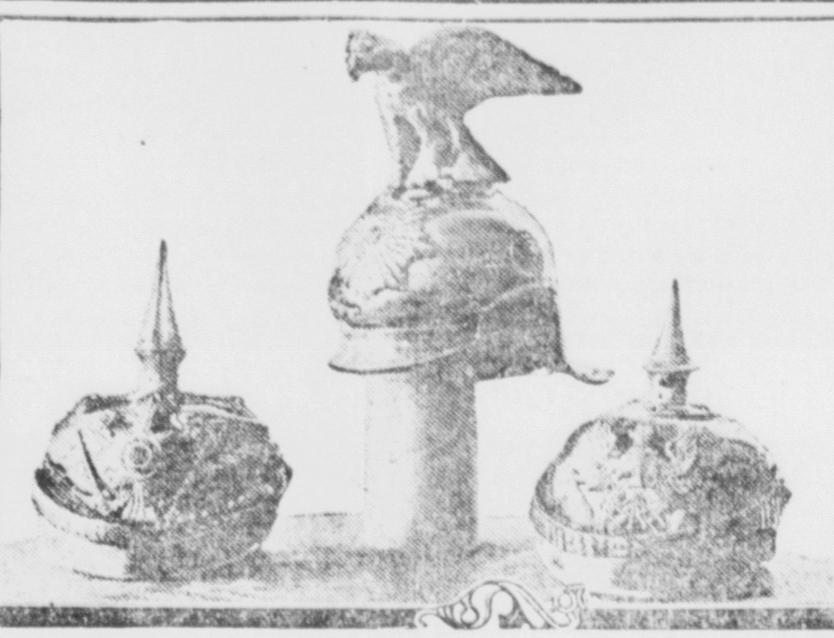

Removed for this Springfield, Ohio Girl by External Remedy.

Mrs. Frank Beard, 1610 Karr St., Springfield, says in her own home paper, the Springfield Daily News: "Sorbol-Quadruple removed goitre of five years' standing for my daughter, five years ago, and it has never bothered her since. It enlarged her neck 1½ inches and made her a nervous wreck. We despaired of her life. It took less than one bottle to restore her to good health. I am glad to tell anyone our experience, even by letter."

Sorbol-Quadruple comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate the skin. After the goitre is removed, the parts are left in a healthy normal condition. Requires ten minutes daily. Get further information at Blackmer & Tanquary's drug stores everywhere, or write Sorbol Company, Mechanicsburg, Ohio.

And we suppose that the Senate wouldn't read the darn treaty if it did have it.

A "Hot" June

June has brought its full quota of hot weather if one is to judge from the comments of sweltering human beings. The sixth month of the year almost invariably brings us hot weather of the sweltery kind so depressing to people, but so necessary for the vegetation of all kinds.

We are relieved, for the time, by the cool breezes which blow off the storm clouds and then when the shower has passed on, with its rumble of thunder, to relieve some other community and the blazing sun shines again, the soaked ground and the dripping vegetation give off a humidity that has the same weakening effect as a mild steam bath.

But the corn keeps on growing, the flowers continue to bloom, the pastures and meadows thrive, every bit of vegetation is strengthened for the coming droughts of July and August when the sun will beat down with tropical heat and the life-giving showers will be less frequent.

We, who complain about heat this June, are forgetting the other Junes and have not profited by the lesson, which nature has been teaching us all our lives, that the months, averaged over a series of years bring the same weather—weather characteristic of the time and in harmony with the needs of the growing things.

Nature has many more important matters to look after than our own temporary comfort and more important demands to meet than our momentary pleasure.

A New Policy

Convincing proof that the United States has reached the limit of patience with Mexico and Carranza is being presented in abundance.

At last, it seems, there is to be an end to the insolence of Mexico. No longer are American citizens on this side of the border to be shot by bandits which the Carranza government cannot, or will not, suppress.

No longer are the United States troops to be assembled at El Paso and other points along the border to stand quietly at attention and ready while rival factions, either carelessly or intentionally, fire across the border line killing citizens and sometimes soldiers, restrained from any retaliation or even taking steps to prevent a repetition of the outrage by respect for the boundary line.

When American troops marched over the international bridge at El Paso on Sunday night and forded the Rio Grande in the moonlight above that city, taking up positions "on Mexican soil" it meant the beginning of the end of intolerable conditions in Mexico which have caused the United States citizens tremendous financial loss, more than a score of lives and unending anxiety during the past half dozen years.

At last the administration, which has always treated Mexico fairly, is going to insist that Mexico treat the United States fairly.

We have turned the other cheek not once but hundreds of times, and Mexico has grown more insolent and more troublesome as a consequence.

Now we are going to try another plan.

Over Again

Another plane—an air "ship" as the aviator prefers to call them—has crossed the Atlantic ocean. The last ship to leave the western hemisphere, travel successfully through the air spaces above the Atlantic, and arrive, under its own power, safely on the shores of the old world, was piloted by a British subject, Captain Alcock.

To him history will accord the honor of having made the first, successful, non-stop voyage from the United States to the British Isles.

To our own aviators and their British cousins is given the honor, for all time, of attaining the final goal—the ultimate ambition of all flyers.

It seems now that there remains nothing new, in the way of adventure, and voyages of discovery, for those intrepid men who shift the "joy stick" in the big flying machines.

From the few hundred rods covered in Wilbur Wright's first attempt, with a heavier-than-air machine, to a non-stop trip from New Foundland to Ireland, nearly 2,000 miles, is a long way.

Ambitious men, those to whom the ultimate possible achievement is the lure of life, saw clearly the very voyages which have just been completed. Beyond that the ambitious did not see in those early days. To them the ultimate goal has been attained.

History will accord glory to the achievements of the men who have compelled the ambitious to move the outlines of their hopes to a new goal.

HOW SOCIALISTS WERE DECEIVED

Berlin, May 11. (By Mail)—The reason why German socialists of all complexions voted solidly for war credits at the beginning of hostilities is explained by Edward Bernstein in Vorwärts.

Answering an editorial in the Tageblatt, which claimed that even radicals had not the slightest word of protest to offer against the violation of Belgium by German forces and did not learn of it until the Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg mentioned the fact in a speech.

And the Chancellor according to Bernstein, so represented matters that it appeared as if France had begun hostilities by airplane and cavalry attacks.

"The falsity of that statement," the writer continues, "was not and could not be established until later. It is impossible to blame any socialist for not springing up and flinging 'Cuntrin' in Bethmann's face."

OHIO RATIFIES WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Columbus, O., June 16.—The Ohio General Assembly today ratified the federal woman suffrage amendment and immediately thereafter passed a bill that will give Ohio women the right to vote for presidential electors in 1920 should the federal amendment not be in effect at that time.

The vote on ratification was 73 for to 6 against in the House, and in the Senate 27 for to 3 against.

In transmitting the proposed suffrage amendment to the Legislature, Governor Cox urged ratification and gave three special reasons why women should be granted equal suffrage with men. They were:

First—What is offered now to our women was their right long ago.

Second—Bestowal of the right of suffrage will be regarded as part reward for service and sacrifice during the war.

Third—The nation and world need the expressed mother voice as an element to safety when evil be about.

Only a fair representation of women, chiefly suffrage leaders, were present in the galleries when the vote on the federal resolution and state suffrage bill were taken.

They were given permission to cheer in the House by Speaker Kimball, and this they did with considerable enthusiasm.

FAYETTE WHEAT BADLY DAMAGED

The Fayette county wheat crop has been considerably damaged during the last two weeks, according to statements from numerous farmers, by being twisted and flattened almost to the ground by the rains.

The damage is chiefly due to the rank growth made by the wheat, some of it being nearly six feet in height, with the result that when the long stalk became wet the wheat simply fell over because of its excessive weight.

As a result of the condition of the wheat, a large amount of the grain cannot, it is believed, be picked up.

IN MEMORY OF GEORGE INSKEEP

At the age of 68 years and 20 days this leading citizen responds to the final summons, and in his departure the community loses one of its foremost business men.

George Inskip was born on the farm near Russelville in Brown County, Ohio, May 23rd 1851. His parents were Fountain and Elenor Inskip, and he was a member of a family of eleven children, six brothers and five sisters. He is survived by four of these brothers and 2 sisters. Job and Origin Inskip reside near Russelville, Ohio. Reason Inskip at Cawker City, Kansas, Edward Inskip at Urbana, Ohio, Mrs. Sue Shaw at Lincoln, Ill., and his youngest sister Mrs. C. W. Riber at Hillsboro, Ohio.

On January 25th 1877, he was married to Ida McKibben of Brooksville, Ky., who for more than 42 years has shared with him the joys and sorrows that attend an active and successful career.

The life of George Inskip since his early manhood has been a constant stretch of varied business activities. While he grew to manhood on the farm, he was not endowed with a rugged nature, and through nearly all his years manifested bronchial weakness and a physical appearance inclined to suggest frailty rather than bodily strength. But he never lacked the courage of conviction and will power to carry to a successful issue and termination every enterprise which became the subject of his undertaking.

He commenced work as a young man on his own responsibility by teaching school in his native county, and in a short while engaged in the woollen mills business at Georgetown, in Brown County, as a member of the firm of R. Young & Company. He followed this and other mercantile pursuits in Georgetown successfully until his removal to Washington C. H., Ohio in the fall of 1883, where he has ever since resided.

He came to this city as a partner of James Dunn, and for a time was engaged with him in the wool business and as boot and shoe merchants. Later he followed merchant tailoring business and a little more than twenty years ago actively entered business as a manufacturer, and during the remainder of his life has earnestly devoted his energies to this line of business.

He was one of the organizers of The Washington Savings Bank and Trust Co., and vice president of this bank at his death.

The crowning accomplishments of his business career were the organization and establishment of The P. Hagerty Shoe Co., and the development of The Inskip Mfg. Company, both of which are highly prosperous institutions, and monuments to his zeal and industry.

He was deeply interested in the growth and development of The Savings Bank, and was gratified at its rapid progress. He was deeply interested in his nephew Arch Riber, whom he had associated with this bank, and he longed for his return from foreign military service, and wished to see him before he passed away.

The Inskip Mfg. Co., engaged in making gloves and mittens has likewise, since his connection with it, spread its domain of fruitful service beyond the limits of the original factory in this city, until it operates two additional factories in Ohio, and one in the state of Illinois.

He was an exception to the rule, that one should select some particular line of business endeavor and make it his life work. He was a business man, and engaged in many avenues of industrial pursuit without disparaging failure attending any of his business ventures. His many different phases of business activity brought him many associations with men, as partners and otherwise. Those affiliated with him in business not only enjoyed favor and confidence in his judgement and business ability, but they had the highest respect and trust in his upright character and in his integrity as a man.

While he believed in charity, it was one of his oft repeated mottoes that the most enduring benefit that could be bestowed on a needy people was to make it possible for them to help themselves. To this end he ever advocated the establishment of useful enterprises that would give steady employment and wages to every son of toil who wanted to earn an honest living. He ever encouraged thrift and economy. He was sometimes criticized for erecting so many modest homes and houses of simple design in the city. By so doing he was able to, and did rent these homes at the most moderate prices to those who were not able to pay big rents; and thus he rendered a service to that class of his fellow men, that was worthy of emulation by even his critics.

He was a person of unassuming de-manner and shunned egotism and the gilded coloring of falsehood and deceit. He was kindly disposed in all his social and business relations, and considerate of the feeling and rights of others. He safeguarded his words and kept his promises as sacredly as he observed the covenants of his bond. This course of conduct made him few enemies. His open hearted spirit and desire to be fair and frank in his dealings continually won for him the confidence and high esteem of his fellow men.

His home life was simple, pure and unstuffed. The continued weakening of his health of late years caused him to spend much of his time in his home. The same affable kindly spirit that greeted stranger and friend in his busines life reigned supreme in his household. There, the faithful and devoted companion who tenderly ministered to his ills and provided comfort both in sunshine and shadow, joined greetings with him and conveyed cheer and welcome to every guest who shared the hospitality of their home.

He was not a member of any church, yet the rectitude of his life and conduct was in keeping with religious standards.

He believed in God and was a reader and student of His sacred word.

He attended church generally where his wife held membership with the

M. E. Demonstration. He was liberal in support of religious activities and was especially interested in the Christian Church, because around its shrine hovered the memory of the Christian faith of his sainted mother.

In Lodge circles he was a member of the masonic order, and was a Knight

Templar.

In the death of George Inskip the community loses the energy and influence of an upright and useful citizen. The institution of business which he assisted in organizing and which he served so faithfully to the

The 300,000 Maxwells All Tell the Same Story

MAXWELL first caught on in those sections of America where grades are long and severe, where roads are none too good, where distances are great, and where few cars before had made good.

Today if you could visit those places, those zones—some of them hundreds and hundreds of miles in area—you would see the Maxwell the prevailing car there.

These "Maxwell areas," so to speak, have since spread into nation-wide—even world-wide areas—for like all things good, news travels fast.

Today there's no spot of consequence where Maxwell cannot be found in ever-increasing numbers.

Because Maxwell expresses to a marked degree that one quality that every one seeks in a motor car—everlasting reliability.

This dominating trait of the Maxwell was built to be its dominating trait.

Instead of a brand new model every year with frequent, expensive changes in design (changes costly to the purchaser) a very simple Maxwell was designed five years ago.

And since that time no radical changes have been made, no new models built, but instead a constant, almost daily improving process has gone on until today the 300,000th Maxwell tells the same story as No. 1.

It's a better car, to be sure, more refined, better looking—even more reliable, but it would not be half the car it is today were it merely a 1919 model with but one year behind it.

Veterinarians and Horsemen Have Used and Recommended This Liniment for 50 Years

Keeps Work-stock Clean-limbed, Fit and Willing Houstonia (The Original Jones') Liniment was first compounded in 1870.

After a half century of successful use, farmers and stockmen, as well as horsemen and trainers, have come to depend upon this soothing, healing anti-septic liniment.

No sore, lame horses when Houstonia Liniment is kept handy. No curb, splint, sweeny, wind-puffs or bony tumors.

Houstonia Liniment, does not burn, smart nor blister, does not irritate nor fret the skin—but quickly penetrates to the deeper tissues and ligaments, easing pain of strains and sprains and leaving the animal sound, clean-limbed, and unblemished. Roth Brothers, famous trainers and drivers, say:

"Your liniment is as essential to a training stable as good feed. We always had trouble getting a liniment mild enough for all uses in the horse until we tried your Liniment. It will give satisfaction in any case where it is possible for a liniment to do good."

If your stable is not already protected, don't wait. Ask your druggist for a bottle of House-tone-e-ah, Veterinary size—the tried and trusted friend of horseowners.

Household sizes, 25c and 50c. New Veterinary size, 20 oz., $1.
